

The Rewards of Hiring Rosemarie Rossetti, Ph.D.

Speaker | Author | Consultant

You Get In-Depth Expertise

Rosemarie Rossetti, Ph.D., is an inspiring entrepreneur and author with eleven years of teaching at the university level. She is a full-time professional speaker who has been motivating business leaders and organizations to embrace change and push through adversity since 1997. Rosemarie has spoken internationally to audiences from 10 to 10,000. She addresses relevant issues in the workplace, and because of that, she is a highly sought after speaker.

You Get Real-World Experience

On June 13, 1998, Rosemarie's life dramatically changed. While riding her bicycle, she was crushed by a 7,000-pound tree and instantly paralyzed from the waist down. She looked deep within herself and found new strength, resiliency, and a new resolve to take back her life. Her 5 Lessons to Live By were created as she was recovering from a spinal cord injury. She is a recognized role model, agent for change and mentor for finding hope through adversity.

You Get A Pro Who Is Easy to Work With

Rosemarie is a master communicator and consummate professional. That means Rosemarie presents without surprises or confusion. She provides quick follow-up as needed, answers questions promptly, and delivers ahead of any deadlines. Rosemarie works to reduce stress for her clients. Each meaningful presentation is tailored to meet that client's specific needs, integrating the theme of the conference into her presentations. Her audiences have a memorable experience and leave with takeaways that they can use immediately. She consistently receives rave reviews. Her goal - to be a trusted partner with every client, providing the tools necessary to achieve their vision of future success.

You Get Authenticity

As someone who has experienced and survived a traumatic change, Rosemarie has been in the trenches of adversity. Her message of moving beyond fear to hope comes from personal life experiences delivered in immediately relatable ways. Rosemarie's presentations are impactful, memorable, and encourage the audience to view life from a fresh perspective.

You Get Interactive, Engaging, and Experiential

Telling relevant stories and painting vivid word pictures is one of the powerful ways that Rosemarie engages her audience. Her stories evoke feelings and emotions that touch their hearts, building rapport and rapidly capturing their attention. She gives each program added value by allowing time for questions and input during her presentation.

You Get Credibility and a Great Sense of Humor

Rosemarie is poised, articulate, animated, expressive, dynamic, energetic, and spontaneous. As audience members listen, they will feel the truth in her words. She delivers every presentation like it's her last - with intent, purpose, and life lessons meant to motivate everyone in attendance to set realistic goals that balance life. Equally important, Rosemarie's infectious sense of humor is laced throughout her presentation, anchoring her profound messages with relatable insights and laughter.

You Get Relevance and Value

No two presentations that Rosemarie delivers are alike. She tailors each message to meet your organization's specific needs for change and improvement. Embracing change is an ongoing and fluid need in the corporate arena. Rosemarie knows this and shares practical, relevant tips that encourage today's business leaders to envision their future success and widen the horizon of professional possibilities.
